

Once again Ravenous will be heading out for a Thursday cruise. If the weather cooperates, the Poes will take the day off on October 13th and head south to watch the schooners gather for the race to Portsmouth, VA.

If you would like to join us and have a fun day on the water, pack your lunch, bring your camera and sun screen, and meet us on the pier. Ravenous will have plenty of beverages. We will leave at about 10:00 for a beautiful day on the water. We will sail to Annapolis to check out all the schooners getting ready for the start of the Schooner Race, have lunch together and be home by about 5:00.
